

VIENNA FORUM FOR ANALYTIC PHILOSOPHY PRESENTS THEIR 11TH GRADUATE CONFERENCE: ABOUT KNOWLEDGE, IGNORANCE AND MORAL RESPONSIBILITY

DON'T KNOW, SHOULD CARE

JULY 07

13:55–14:00 Opening

14:00–14:45 Dominik Boll

in person

Caring about our Norms: Epistemic Standpoints and the Function of Taking Responsibility

15:00–15:45 Joe Shin

online

What Ignorant Wrongdoers Needn't Do

16:15–17:45 Jan Willem Wieland (Keynote)

in person

Don't Care, No Blame

JULY 08

14:00–14:45 Anton Emilsson

in person

Hope for Blame, Or Against the Victim Objection to Normative Competence Views

15:00–15:45 Claire Becerra

online

Belief qua action, belief qua activity: pragmatists and evidentialists on epistemic responsibility

16:15–17:00 Oscar Piedrahita

online

Ignorance, Access, and Epistemic Responsibility

17:15–18:45 Gunnar Björnsson (Keynote)

in person

Due Regard: On Some Foundational Questions for Strawsonian Responsibility

JULY 09

14:00-14:45
in person

Mariam Duindam-Kazanjian
Blameless Moral Ignorance and Righteous Anger: When can we be fittingly angry with blamelessly morally ignorant people?

15:00-15:45
online

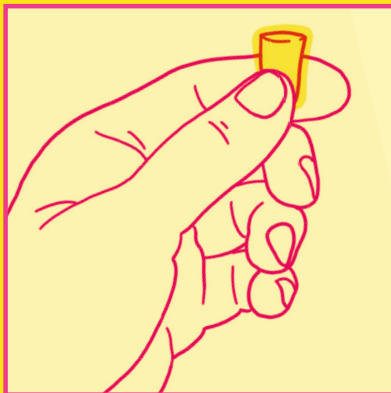

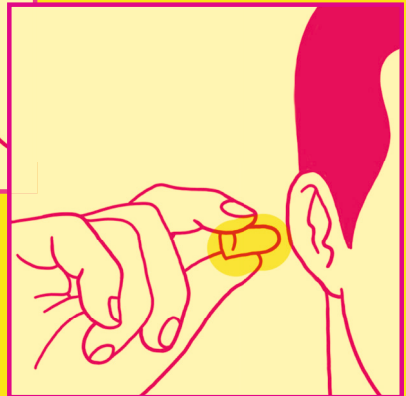

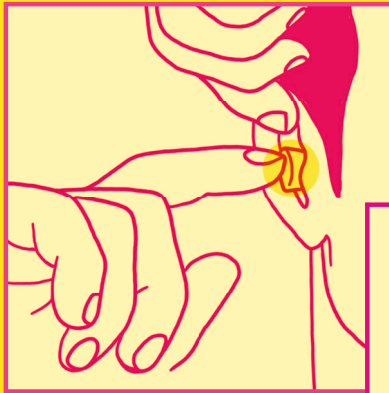

Sumeet Patwardhan
'Do I Have To?': Moral Ignorance and Sexual Consent

16:15-17:00
online

Eliza Wells
Social Roles and Moral Ignorance

17:15-18:45
in person

Lubomira Radoilska (Keynote)
Answerability and Epistemic Dis-Credit

Wiener Forum
für Analytische Philosophie